ALEJANDRO OTIÑANO

FRONTEND DEVELOPER

ABOUT ME

My name is Alejandro, I'm 20 years old, and I'm a frontend developer with less than a year of experience working with React. During this time, I have acquired solid knowledge in web development, with a particular focus on creating simple, aesthetic, and user-friendly interfaces.

In addition to my experience with React, I possess skills in UI/UX design and responsive development, enabling me to build applications that provide an excellent user experience across various devices. Although I lack formal work experience in the industry, I have worked on personal projects that have allowed me to apply my skills and continuously improve.

I am eager to apply my knowledge and skills to new projects, aiming to contribute to team success while continuing to learn and grow professionally.
